

6.3 Considerations in different health care systems (15 minutes)

In the following videos, Dr Halle Ekane (gynecologists at the University Hospital in Buea, Cameroon), Dr Egbe (gynecologist at the University Hospital in Buea, Cameroon), Dr Mbome Njie (public health physician at the Ministry of Health in Cameroon) and Dr Brady (gynecologist at the University of Arizona) discuss two health systems considerations. In the first video, they discuss various options for investigations at primary, referral and tertiary centers in Cameroon. In the second video, they discuss the various health professionals involved in the management of a case about hypertensive disorders in pregnancy.
